Upper Elementary Epistle

To Friends everywhere:

We met in July at Pacific University for over four days. We had lots of adult visitors such as Sandy and Tom Farley from Palo Alto, who taught us the Seneca spirit circle to open and close activities. They also brought an activity where we built communities in silence out of index cards. They also told us stories. One story, Yucatan Sunrise, was used for our skit for community night.

Some other adult visitors included Elisia from Bolivia, the friends in residence Paul and Becca, and a group from Friendly Water for the World. They taught us about how people live in other countries.

Some of our favorite activities were making papier mache masks and props for our skit and playing games, especially screaming toes and giants, wizards, and elves.

Respectfully submitted, the upper elementary Friends of North Pacific Yearly Meeting.
